

Statement of Confidentiality – Family Support

Family Support & Recovery Dynamics is a peer-run support group host by Jericho Road.

While this support group is under the umbrella of Jericho Road Ministries, we recognize the importance of anonymity. Every meeting is a safe place for participants to share without fear of judgement, gossip, or criticism.

The principle of anonymity is essential to ensure the confidentiality of participants and what is shared at the meetings. This means that we do not reveal under any circumstance (even to relatives, friends, and other members) whom we see and what we hear at a Family Support meeting.

We do not record, both written and electronically, any information shared, nor do we keep record of any participants in attendance. Personal information shared with the facilitator pertaining to participants will not be sold, released, or given to any third parties (including other Jericho Road staff or residents) without prior consent from the individual.

We request that all participants adhere to these guidelines to ensure the safety and privacy of everyone in attendance.
